UK Gender Pay Gap: where is the gap, and is it closing?
Source: UK Government Gender Pay Gap Service (gov.uk), 2023-24 to 2025-26. Industry from SIC 2007 (first code listed)

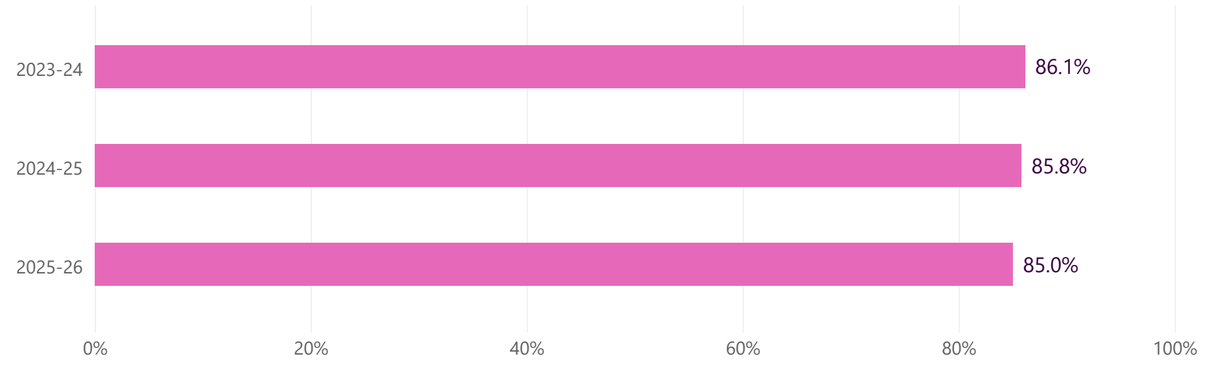

The pay gap is closing, but slowly: median gap down from 8.9% to 8.0% in two years

MEDIAN GAP % by Year

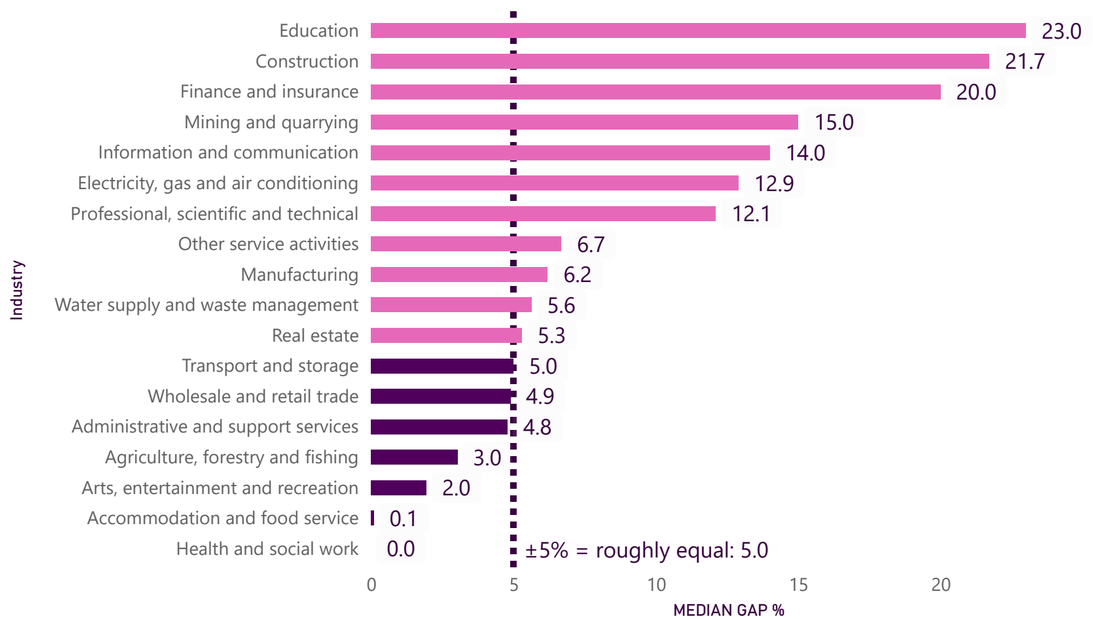

85% of employers still pay men more on average, barely down from 86%

Employers where women's average hourly pay is lower, % of all employers

Pay gaps are widest in Education (23%), Construction (22%) and Finance (20%), and near zero in Health and Accommodation

Median hourly gap by industry, 2025-26, industries with 50+ employers

In Finance, women are 56% of the lowest-paid quarter but only 33% of the top-paid quarter. In Health, the split is almost even (75% vs 73%)

Average share of women by pay quarter, 2025-26

